Liquor Store Operator Faces Charges

Robert Wade, Operator of the Bay Liquor Store in Bay St. Louis must appear before a hearing ordered by the Mississippi State Tax Commission on charges of violating the state Alcoholic Beverage Control Division laws on December 4. The hearing is set for January 7 in Jackson.

Wade is charged with delivering or having delivered alcoholic beverages to customers away from the store, illegal under state rules for liquor sales. Wade also faces charges of selling more than three gallons of alcoholic beverages without keeping a proper quantity record.

The hearing will determine whether Wade can retain his license to deal in alcoholic beverages at the Bay Liquor Store.

Hospital Asks City Funds For Heart Unit

Caron, President of Trustees of the Hospital told Commissioners
Bay St. Louis on hearing: "We are sought financial support from the city and said

the Unit for Heart Patients would cost an estimated $75,000, of which the hospital was prepared to pay $25,000.
They will require the additional $50,000 from other county-city sources.

The Mayor and Commissioners were non-committal as to what amount the hospital might expect to receive from that source. They expressed a desire to assist but explained
a review of the city's financial status would first have to be studied. One commissioner said he believed the "We Care"
funds had been used entirely.

After an audit, the commissioners felt they would be in better position to make a commitment. Carson said Hancock County has a large number of retirees and older persons with heart ailments. "This is a MUST for our hospital", Caron said and added "It is felt we will not have the support of the Mississippi Hospital Association
if we don't provide this unit."

The Unit needed would comprise a three-bed E.K.G.
(Electro-Cardiogram) ward
with a sleep-in monitoring service where doctors and nurses
could constantly observe intensive care heart patients.

When approached on the subject, Blackledge said the heart patients get excellent care and there is fine equipment available in the hospital. He said he felt to get the existing equipment located in a separate unit would provide all needed facilities to take care of the present needs and demands of the hospital at this time.

Mississippi Power Company Petitions For Rate Increase

Mississippi Power Company has petitioned the Mississippi Public Service Commission for rate adjustments which will produce an estimated $3 million, an approximate 5.3 percent increase, in revenues in 1971
from residential, commercial and industrial customers.

A. J. Watson, Jr., company president, commenting on the proposed rate changes, states,
"A combination of circumstances over which the Mississippi Power Company has absolutely no control has increased and will continue to increase the operating costs of the company to such an extent that without additional revenues it would be seriously hampered in meeting its responsibility of providing adequate and reliable electric service to its customers in southeast Mississippi."

"To assure continued reliability in the face of growing customer requirements and to provide the electric power essential for the further economic progress of our service area and its citizens, the Company has embarked on the largest construction program in its history. This will require the expenditure of over $105 million during the period 1970-

1972, and financing this program will necessitate the sale of large amounts of securities
to investors throughout the nation. This outside money, so vital to southeast Mississippi's continued progress, will only be available, and at interest rates we and our customers can afford, if the Company's operations produce sufficient income to give assurance of safety of the investor's money.
"Our costs of labor, materials, supplies and equipment are increasing at a rapid pace.
One of our largest business expenses is interest payments of over $5 million annually on long and short term debts. Recently, the Company sold $15 million in bonds at interest rates 74 percent higher than those five years earlier. This meant an annual increase in interest payments of over $500,000 for this issue alone. In addition, we are now faced in 1971 with refunding bonds sold 30 years ago at an interest rate of 3 - 1/2 percent with a new security issue that will probably call for over eight percent in interest payments.

This will add over $400,000
each year to our operating costs.

"Also affecting Mississippi Power Company's ability to meet rising costs has been a temporary reduction in its growth rate, brought about by the combination of Hurricane Camille and the national economic slowdown. It has been through rapid expansion of electric power consumption and operating economies and efficiencies that the Company has been able to offset increased operating costs in earlier years."

Mr. Watson continued, "It was with the greatest reluctance and only after the most careful analysis that Mississippi Power Company took this action. We diligently seek to render the best possible service at the lowest reasonable cost and are proud of our accomplishments, to which a long history of reduced power costs attests. However, quite conscious of our responsibility to the area we serve, we feel that any action required on our part which otherwise could adversely affect the future reliability or adequacy of electric service in this region must not be delayed."

Mississippi Power
Company, with headquarters in Gulfport, operates in twenty-three counties of southeast Mississippi.

STREET LIGHTING NOT AFFECTED

Although the Mississippi Power Company seeks to increase rates, effective as of January 18, 1971, and with a 5.3% coverage of existing rates,
this would not affect the cost of operating the Bay St. Louis
(Cont. on Page 5-A.)

Man Injured In Shooting

Larry Floyd, 22, of Waveland
was admitted to Hancock General Hospital of Bay St.
Louis on December 20 following an accidental shooting in his home which reportedly occurred at 5:00 a.m. on December 20.

Investigating officers Robert Tartavouille and Donald Dorn said Floyd received a gun shot wound in his thigh
when he dropped or threw to the floor a Colt single shot revolver. His condition is not considered serious, and the incident was said to have occurred
following or during a family disagreement.

One Solitary Life

HE was born in an obscure village. He worked in a carpenter shop until he was thirty. He then became an itinerant preacher.

HE never held an office.
He never had a family or owned a house.
HE didn't go to college.
He had no credentials but himself.

Nineteen centuries have come and gone, and today he is the central figure of the human race.

All the armies that ever marched, and all the navies that ever sailed, and all the parliaments that ever sat, and all the kings that ever reigned have not affected the life of man on this earth as much as that... ONE SOLITARY LIFE.

Vandals Destroy School Property

Vandals were said to have entered four class rooms in the North Bay Elementary School on Dunbar where Christmas trees, decorations and other things were destroyed.
Chief of Police Goodsell said
no windows were broken and the offenders gained entrance
through unlocked doors or windows.

The long awaited joy of class room Christmas parties was spoiled for many students and a sizeable outlay of money and effort was lost with this sense-

The Mississippi Park System has given funds to the amount of $39,550 to Hancock County for the Jackson Ridge Park land acquisition. The funds were applied to the project by the Bureau of Outdoor Recreation.

Sponsor Modlin, director and comptroller of the park system piloted his own aircraft onto the runway of Stonnis Field to deliver the funds to representatives of the County. On hand for his arrival were Russell
Elliott, president and J. C.
(Peck) Mastry, both of Hancock County Board of Supervisors; Talmadge Rayburn, director, Hancock County Chamber of Commerce; Malcolm (Jack) Soumoneau, aviation director, Hancock County Port and Harbor Commission; Wylie Hosch, Fund Raiser,
and president of Health's Flying Service.

On receiving the money,
Elliott said the way is now clear to start park development.

"We have had a little opposition on this project but these government matching funds
clear the way for us to start making firm plans to move the unsightly and unsanitary dump from Jackson Ridge and, by next July, begin movement on initial construction phases."

The supervisor president then elaborated on land cost to the county.

He said, "To get this money
we had to meet certain requirements including the obtaining of independent appraisal of the lands in question. This appraisal allowed the overall value of the required lands,
outside of the sixteen section area, to be about $2,000 per acre. With those government funds, which by the way can only be used for the park land acquisition, the cost to the county is therefore only $1,000 per acre as the money represents a fifty percent acquisition cost matching grant.
This money is a direct grant to the county, free and clear."

Modlin, who has champion-ed the Jackson Ridge Park project from the start, first visited the site in June 1969.
At that time he said the park
project offers a "... golden opportunity to the people of Hancock County."

The state park system chief said he was much impressed with the site's potential and stated he considered the proposed county development of "high quality and worthy of public agency funding wherever possible."

City Asks Extension On Code Deadline

The Governor's Emergency Council through its representatives has urged the Mayor and City Commissioners of Bay St. Louis to take a positive and immediate stand on the adoption of the Southern Building Code. "I want to make sure we are not taking a wrong step," explained Andre Arceneaux when he stated at Monday's council meeting his views. "We are in favor of a building code and are in reality in compliance with the building code," Arceneaux said. Arceneaux seeks a clarification on the matter of authority in administration and believes the local level of authority would be to the best interest of the people. G. E. C. representatives insist that inspections and authority to enforce in stipulation under the directive of the established GEC Board. Inspections, according to the GEC may be made by qualified local personnel, however, these men must qualify through GEC administration and work in subordination. Arceneaux seeks to clarify through the state's senator and representative the position of the Federal Government and asks whether the Federal Government recognizes the authority of the Governor's Emergency Council. The building code was adopted sometime ago by the City of Bay St. Louis and has not, in fact, been rescinded. An extension of time has been requested by the commissioners to clear up the question of local administration. Arceneaux said: "Our local inspectors are qualified to make the stipulated inspections and I believe administration at a local level would be to the best interest of our citizens."

Terrribly sorry to hear that Mrs. Jeanette Hillhouse lost her home by fire last Wednesday morning.

Congratulations to Dottie Haver upon winning first place in the Garden Show at Bay Jr. High. Her arrangement was a Christmas arrangement for a boys bedroom.

Last minute gifts to buy? David's Drygood Store carries a large assortment of toys, women's, men's and children's apparel and almost anything else you might ask for. Summers Grocery on Whites Road carries a nice selection of ceramics made by Mrs. Doris Givens.

On Thursday night, December 17th at Bay Gym, Bay Jr. High played Sikeston Jr. High and lost with a score of 33 to 38. Twenty-three of Bay's points were made by Pearl Huggins. Dottie Haver was high scorer with 18 points. Dot McArthur scored 5 and Pat Austin of the Bay scored the other 10.

Get well wishes are extended to the Gontersman children, Paige and Greg. 9 1/2 year old Paige has the Chicken Pox and 4 1/2 month old Greg is in the Sidel Memorial Hospital.

Get well wishes are extended to Brent Haver, who is in the hospital at Sidel.

Happy Birthday wishes go to little Miss Taren Ann Breland, who had her birthday on December 19th.

A hearty congratulation to the students and teachers of Charles B. Murphy School, who participated in the production of the Christmas program at the school last Thursday night. You were great.

Happy Birthday wishes are extended to Marilyn Adams whose birthday was December 17th.

Belated Anniversary congratulations go to Mr. and Mrs. Paul Barber, who had their 25th anniversary on November 22nd.

Belated Anniversary congratulations also go to Mr. and Mrs. Bill Stone. The Stones' anniversary was November 15th.

The ninth wonder of the world has to be Mrs. Louise Russell. Mrs. Russell spent a week in the Sidel Memorial Hospital with a serious ear infection, was discharged on Thursday, December 17th, gave a Christmas party for her 5th grade class at Murphy School on Friday and another Christmas party for the Group III children of Oak Harbor on Sunday afternoon. Louie, you're unbelievable, but what would we do without you.

Six Complete Drug Course

Six officers from Hancock County have recently completed a course of study in Gulfport on Narcotics and Dangerous Drugs, according to Sheriff Fred Curet who said both Federal and State narcotic agents took active part in the instruction of the school.

Those in attendance included Sheriff Fred W. Curet, Emile Piazza, and Robert Tartavulle of the County Police force; Billy Carbonetto and Emmett Ellis of the City of Bay St. Louis Police force and Don McIntire of the Waveland Police Department.

The study included the latest information and scientific analysis of drugs, according to Curet who said the men were in class about 40 hours. Curet said: "We feel that we are now making headway in Hancock County and have had wonderful public participation in our program through conferences. We also were on the T.V. through station WWL."

Curet said he felt drug stores were too lax in selling any pills and that there were too few narcotic agents in the county. A plan is being formulated to put on 20 more narcotic Agents who will be under the supervision of the Attorney General, it was said. Curet said pamphlets are prepared for distribution and more education about the narcotic problem is being planned.

My apologies to Miss Betty Faye Williams for the omission of her name as one of the teachers at Charles B. Murphy responsible for the success of the Christmas program at the school.
Merry Christmas and the best of the New Year to each and every one of you and may SANTA fill your stocking to the brim.

Greetings

good luck in the year ahead!

NEW MEMBERS of the Bay-Waveland Junior Auxiliary are from left to right, Mrs. John Ginn, Mrs. Paul Norton, Mrs. Vincent Schott, Mrs. Joseph Gatz, Mrs. Nicholas Haas, Mrs. Lucien Gatz, Mrs. Frank Parrish, Mrs. Ronald Artigues, Mrs. Sheldon Souzenou II, and Mrs. Edward Santa Cruz. The new members were entertained at a party recently given at the home of Mrs. Henry Maggio.

Winners Named In Lighting Contest

With the true spirit of the Christmas season, the hale and hearty judges of the Bay-Waveland Garden Club Christmas Lighting Contest braved the heavy Sunday night fog, in order not to disappoint the entrants. It was a lovely sight to see the twenty-five beautiful homes and to experience the enthusiasm on the part of the entrants.

The first place winner in the commercial category goes to Hancock Insurance Company for their lovely decorated tree and large wreath in the back of the building. Their name will be engraved on the traveling plaque and it will be presented to Mrs. Dick Shadoin, Manager.

In the residential category, the first place winners are Mr. and Mrs. W.C. Kaiser, 140 Terrace in Waveland. The exterior of the Kaiser home is a thing of joy, with the beautifully done Christmas lighting and decoration. In a natural setting of moss covered trees. The children will especially enjoy the mechanical figures used in the winter scene. Perry F. Gibson, Manager of Mississippi Power Company will award a small electric appliance to the Kaiser family.

 To Head
 Volunteers

Andre Arceneaux, on Monday volunteered to head operations in the establishment of a coordinated Volunteer Fire Department for the City of Bay St. Louis.

Normally this department comes under the jurisdiction of the mayor, however, Arceneaux said he was aware Mayor Carver had an exceedingly busy schedule yet he felt the volunteer service was needed and necessary. "I have some time available to devote to this project", Arceneaux explained. Mayor Carver expressed appreciation and admitted his schedule was over-crowded to the point he could not devote any time to the development of that project.

Must Complete Street Project Need Dryer

Should the street improvement project authorized by the Office of Emergency Preparedness fall to reach completion by February 15, 1971, the City of Bay St. Louis could lose funds allowed for that purpose, Commissioner Andre Arceneaux said Monday during a meeting with members of the City Council. The commissioner requested that a letter be addressed to OEP authorities requesting an extension of time and explaining weather factors and other difficulties being experienced which could delay completion of the project.

Property Owners Fail To Respond

As of Monday there was no response from Armand Bertrand nor Harold Carver to the request made by the City of Bay St. Louis in regard to the cleaning and clearing of two separate properties designated as Lot 14 in the Second Ward and Lot 210 in the Third Ward. The city authorities plan to proceed with the routine of obtaining bids from qualified contractors. When bids are let and grounds are cleared, cost of the work will be added to the tax statement of the land owners which is in compliance with City Ordinances.

Several properties reportedly owned by John McDonald are said to be in need of cleaning and clearing. McDonald in a written report to the city authorities is said to have explained difficulties in getting some 77 separate properties satisfactorily cleared. Members of the City Council indicated an extension of time might be arranged should McDonald give proof that work was progressing and would continue until standards of acceptable cleaning and clearing were met.

The City of Bay St. Louis Fire Department should have a dryer device to dry out fire hoses. It was pointed out at a meeting of the Mayor and City Commissioners on Monday. Such a dryer would cost an estimated $1,500, it was said, and would prevent rotting of the hoses in expensive fire hose. Some fire departments use a drying rack for this purpose, it was reported, however the dryers are said to be more efficient.

Nation-wide, December is said to be a fire hazard month. In Bay St. Louis there is no city ordinance preventing the burning of leaves on a homeowner's property. Care should be exercised to be sure that no brush or leaf fire is left unattended and to make certain all embers are put out with water or smothered with earth. Christmas trees should be kept alive by placing the base in a tree-stand filled with water.

Bay Installing New Odorizer

The city of Bay St. Louis is now in the process of installing a new Odorizer, according to Commissioner William Fritchie. Natural gas is odorless and therefore a potential danger to the consumer, explained Fritchie who said an odor additive made the detection of a gas leak evident and easily discovered.

The odorizer will have an automatic system which to begin

This odorizer was a top priority requirement in necessary installations for the city, Fritchie said.

MR. ANDY WOODWARD OF GULFPORT, MISS., ACCEPTS DELIVERY OF HIS NEW CHEVY TANDEM DUMP TRUCK FROM LAMAR-LANE CHEVROLET SALESMAN J.C. KOENEN IN BAY ST. LOUIS.

Mr. Andy Woodward needed a new heavy duty tandem dump truck for his business. A good friend, a previous customer of J.C. Koenen of Lamar-Lane Chevrolet recommended that he visit "Lamar-Lane" Chevrolet and talk to J.C. At Lamar-Lane Chevrolet Mr. Woodward talked to J.C. and right off he found out that J.C. really knew what he was talking about when it came to trucks as he really knows his business. J.C. having been in the trucking business knows the product he sells and the capabilities of each size truck. The deal offered to Mr. Woodward by J.C. was such a good deal that he couldn't turn it down and he drove it home. If you're in business and need a new truck or trucks for your business, visit Lamar-Lane Chevrolet and talk to salesman J.C. Koenen, he could save you many dollars. The strike is over and new 1971 Chevy cars and trucks are rolling in at Lamar-Lane Chevrolet. LAMAR-LANE CHEVROLET, INC. MR. ANDY WOODWARD (A Gerry Lane Enterprise) Adv. Gulfport, Miss.

Patients Will Receive Plants

Conrad Sickow, operator of Sick Nurseries on Dinger Avenue will again this year distribute small and attractive arrangements of potted plants to each patient in the Hancock General Hospital, the residents of Miramar Nursing Home in Pass Christian and Hancock County Old Folks Home.

Each year Mr. Sick has made a practice of distributing his gift to these institutions on Christmas Eve to help his flowers will add cheer to the holiday season. With a reputation of kindheartedness, Conrad has reserved a garden of his establishment for the feeding and care of stray animals that wander in or may be put out in the vicinity of his Nurseries. An old red Tom cat serves as a paper weight at the check out counter, an aging black dog guards the entrance, and several other peppy young dogs receive attention and TLC from Conrad and those who work with him.

With a characteristic sense of humor Conrad says: "Sick's Nurseries - home of healthy plants and ailing animals."

Ordained in Louisiana Saturday

Rev. Paul Scott, Jr., a missionary from Australia, S.V.D., who received his priesthood in 1969 in Holy Land, was ordained by Bishop Darbonne of the Most Rev. S.V.D., auxiliary bishop of New Orleans, at 10 a.m. Saturday at the former classroom of the Divine Word Seminary in Los Angeles.

During the summer of 1963, Father Scott was assigned to work in the Society's Southern Province with headquarters at Divine Word Seminary, Bay St. Louis, Mississippi.

The following day (Sunday) at 10 a.m., Father Scott said his first Mass in St. John's Church, Franklin, Louisiana. Immediately following the Mass he will be honored at a parish reception.

Father Scott, 31, expects to return to Australia in April for a 12-week pastoral internship at Wolston Park mental hospital in Goodna. From there he will go on to his mission assignment in Paraguay.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Scott, Old Northern Road, Glenorie, N.S.W., Father Scott is one of eleven children. His six brothers and four sisters all live in Australia.

After completing his elementary education in Parramatta public school, Father Scott was employed as a nurseryman for some years. He began his missionary training in 1960 at Divine Word Seminary, Marburg, QLD., as a belated vocation.

After his arrival in the United States, Father Scott continued his college studies at Divine Word College, Epworth, Iowa, where he received his B.A. in Philosophy.

All Those Happy Days!

A long time ago, Lydia Child painted an unforgettable word picture of joy and fun in the holidays: "Over the river and through the wood, to grandpa's house we'll go—". This was written about Thanksgiving, but could just as well be about Christmas. What a wonderful time! How good that wonderful dinner will taste, and grand presents for every girl and boy!

"What a time to use to have on Christmas!", remembers Joseph Riddle of Kila, who was 91 on Washington's Birthday. "My brother and I could hardly sleep at night, picturing all the good things to come. We brought in a hollyherry tree from the woods and set it by the big fireplace and put four or five big white homemade candles on it, and on Christmas morning we crept down through the chilly house to the warmth of the smoldering oak logs and lighted the candles from the fire with the old-fashioned paper splints there, under the pretty tree, were the presents! Then we stood on no ceremony but dug into the small pile like hungry hounds. First, a bag with a dozen plump oranges in it, and another bag of juicy red apples. That was fine, but the best was yet to come: two large packets of firecrackers, a pair of mouthorgan, and finally—vase and yule!—pairs of beautiful shiny leather boots—with red tops!

Mr. Riddle says he never took his boots off, day or night, for two weeks. Then the boys went outside and shot off their firecrackers. Joe pretty conservatively to make them last a long time, his brother recklessly and then with offers to help Joe finish his off. For the rest of the morning they nearly drove their mother to distraction by tooting their harmonicas discordantly in the kitchen.

About noon the "folks" came, married brothers and sisters, aunts, uncles, cousins, a round dozen, and old gramma. The women flocked to the kitchen, the men to the barn, the little girls to the attic to rummage in trunks, and soon every apple tree in the yard had at least one boy in it.

Soon the women-folks had dinner on the long table, and what a meal!—I started turkey and quail, taken right back in the woods; a stew of young rabbit, for them as liked it; heaping dishes of potatoes and all kinds of vegetables, all rolled right on the farm; pickles and jellies, and pies made from peaches and apples from their own trees. Then for the men, a nip of real houghton whisky, not the usual "shinny" of the region, and for the ladies a small glass of Mom's grape wine, and everyone settled back with a groan, feeling with the poet that "Christmas itself may be called into question, if considered so far it creates indignation!"

The remains clearly showed, everyone relaxed around the fire with remembering an old song or two, and perhaps a little and there a comfortable little party winks, and then it was time to go. The wagon, the carriage and the buggies were filled and driven off with much shrill calling of goodbyes and waving of handkerchiefs—and Christmas had done come and gone. A final snack (boy a never get completely filled up!), and Joe and his brother were away into their beds and all apt. Next day the world and life would go on, but better for the happiness and love that always came with Christmas Day.

Auxiliary Holds Christmas Party

American Legion Junior Auxiliary of Unit 139 met Monday, Nov. 7 in the home of Mrs. Russell Elliott for its regular meeting and Christmas party.

Susan Bonvenutti opened the meeting with the flag ceremony, a remembrance of Pearl Harbor Day, and read the Prisoner of War Prayer recently endorsed by President Nixon.

Patricia Smith was elected chairman for the group.

Mrs. C. J. Piazza, Senior Auxiliary vice president, brought greetings and good wishes to the Juniors.

Following the meeting refreshments were served and Christmas remembrances were given each member.

Abigail Murtagh won the entrance prize.

There were 18 junior members and three seniors, Mrs. J. A. Bonvenutti, Mrs. C. J. Piazza and Mrs. Russell Elliott, Junior chairman, attending. The next meeting is scheduled for 3:30 p.m., January 13, in the home of Mrs. Elliott.

Important To List Valuable Papers

Columist Thomas Collins says the week between Christmas and the New Year is a perfect time to take care of the important and often neglected matter of listing your valuable papers.

Important papers, Collins says, should include (1) Your Will, (2) Life Insurance Policies, (3) Pension and annuity contracts, (4) Social Security card, (5) Records of investments, (6) Records of bank savings accounts.

Other information and records to be accumulated and kept in a safe place include birth and marriage certificates, addresses of all children, military records (if any), deed to house or other real estate, and income tax records for the last three years.

Birth and marriage certificates are necessary for collection of certain retirement benefits and certain death benefits.

A list of valuable papers should be kept where you can find them in a hurry.

Litton Sponsors Jaycee Service Award Program

Ralph Sowell, President of the Mississippi Jaycees, announced that Litton Industries will sponsor the organization's Distinguished Service Award (DSA) program which recognizes the state's outstanding young men.

Sowell said the state-wide program will be sponsored for three years by Litton, a multinational corporation which operates two giant shipbuilding divisions in Pascagoula, Mississippi - the Ingalls Nuclear Shipbuilding division and Litton Ship Systems division.

"The DSA is the Mississippi Jaycees' number one program," Sowell said. "We are pleased to have this program sponsored by Litton Industries, a company which continues to demonstrate its interest in building a greater Mississippi."

Under the DSA Program, local Jaycee chapters in all areas of Mississippi work with other civic organizations in selecting their community's outstanding young men. Local DSA winners compete for state honors, and state winners are considered in the selection of America's ten Outstanding Young Men at the annual convention of the U.S. Jaycees. Many of Mississippi's most successful businessmen and governmental officials are state DSA winners. Last year, some 50 of the state's outstanding young men received the local Jaycee DSA award.

"The program is designed to honor young men between the ages of 21 and 35 for outstanding community service," Sowell said. "It also calls attention to the vital role today's young men play in improving his community."

Litton's sponsorship of the DSA program begins with the 1970 event. The sponsorship includes a local DSA award presentation and plaques and trophies for the state-wide DSA meeting and banquet scheduled for February in Pascagoula.

"Litton Industries welcomes the opportunity to participate with the Jaycees in this program," says George W. Howell, Vice President of Litton's Marine Group.

"Litton was attracted to Mississippi primarily because of the outstanding leadership that exists both in government and in business in all sections of the state. Through the sponsorship of DSA, Litton feels it can help assure this high caliber of leadership by focusing attention on the outstanding young men in Mississippi."

"The Mississippi Jaycees is one of the most progressive organizations in our state and Litton is proud to be associated with it in this program," Howell said.

IRISH LEGEND IVY AND THE WINE GOD

The term "Bacchanalian revelry" often applies to holiday celebrations. Ivy is intertwined in the history of Bacchus, for ivy was the Wine God's crown.

Legend tells how it was introduced into Ireland. When Bacchus was traveling through the western lands he visited Ireland, and fell in love with its lush green, charm and beauty. When the time came for him to leave the country, he decided to plant the ivy as a living souvenir of his affection for the Emerald Isle.

A SMALL GROUP of Notre Dame seminarians, New Orleans, discuss a point with one of the priest-directors after a recent morning conference at St. Augustine's Seminary. Father Leonard Olivier, SVD, rector, and the community of St. Augustine's were hosts for the group. During their stay at the seminary the importance of individual prayer to form a solid base for life, communal prayer for supportive fellowship, the importance of being human enough to respect differing opinions and seek the common ground and of being a thankful man were some of the subjects discussed.

magnificent moon-landing achievements should inspire Man to extend his spiritual horizons
... what better time than Christmas, to begin?

Two years ago three human beings spent the first Christmas in space — the first Christmas that Man has spent away from the planet that has nurtured civilization since time began.

A few short months later two other human beings set foot on the virgin moon — the first time that Man has explored a world other than his own.

Tomorrow promises to bring Man in direct contact with other planets — someday perhaps the very stars will become the venue of Man's exploration.

He is reaching for the very Heavens.

Technology — Man's technology — is conquering the universe.

There is talk of science — Man's science — unlocking the secret of life itself.

All of which prompts many thoughtful people to ask — particularly at a time of year when we celebrate the birth day of the Prince of Peace whether Man is reaching too far, attempting to usurp the role of the Creator.

It's an age old question: Science vs religion. It was asked of the Wright Brothers who upset the known natural law that if God had intended

Man to fly. He would have given him wings.

It is a question that has engaged eminent scientists and philosophers. Albert Einstein wrote that "science without religion is lame, religion without science is blind."

The conclusion generally has been reassuring. Cornell University's first president, Andrew Dickson White, put it this way:

My conviction is that science though it has evidently conquered Dogmatic Theology based on biblical texts and ancient modes of thought will go hand in hand with religion and that although theological control will continue to diminish religion as seen in the recognition of a Power in the universe, not ourselves, which makes for righteousness and in the love of God and piety, the "will" steadily grow stronger and stronger.

But this was before the moonships Apollo.

The implications of manned space flight are so enormous that the theological questions inevitably rise again.

Man understands the world. It is finite. Only God understands the universe. It is infinite.

Or is it? Will spacemen someday explore its outer end, chart its boundaries, map its wonders with the precision of the surveyor's transit and mapmaker's compass?

Is creation in danger of becoming Man's handiwork?

Most of our nation's astronauts — the men who have actually ventured into the void — are religious men. And evidently they have seen and felt nothing to shake their faith in the one Creator.

Comprehensive Plan Proposed For Pearl River Basin Project

Development of a river basin can perhaps be compared to building a skyscraper.

With a large building you start at the foundation, build it firmly and work your way up.

With the development and control of a natural waterway, the pattern is much the same, but completely reversed. You start at the top or head waters and work your way down. Each phase improves the immediate area, but also, increases control of the stream below the project.

A comprehensive plan for the development of the Pearl River Basin was recently presented at a public meeting in Jackson. The plan proposes an early-action program that includes projects that can be implemented, completed and are economically feasible in the next 10-15 years.

As stated in the report, "The most important and complex problem encountered in the development of the comprehensive plan was weaving into one overall scheme the best means of satisfying the water and related land needs of the basin and, in particular, formulating the most economical early-action portion of the plan to achieve an overall design which would best serve the national and regional interests."

One recommendation that tackles the situation close to its origin is the construction of three multiple-purpose reservoirs at or near the headwaters of the Pearl River and her tributaries.

Two reasons prompted the location of the proposed reservoir. First, construction of the structures would allow greater control of flows between the point of origin and the Lower Basin Reservoir. Secondly, this network of four reservoirs working together would control flows below the system and thereby enhance later construction of additional structures further down and throughout the basin area.

The Oklahoma damsite is located on the Yockanookany River in northwestern Leake County. The 8,240' x 64' dam will control runoff from 469 square miles, or about 95 percent of the entire Yockanookany River Basin. The planned reservoir will cover about 3,700 acres and contain 30,000 acre-feet of water at normal pool elevation.

Located in central Leake County, the Carthage Dam and Reservoir will be situated on Lohatch Creek. The 6,000' x 55' dam will control the runoff from a 266 square mile drainage area, or about 81 percent of the entire Lohatch Creek Basin. The reservoir will cover about 3,000 acres and contain 20,000 acre-feet of storage at normal pool elevation.

The Edinburg damsite is located in the western part of Nashoba County on the Pearl River. The dam, including a spillway section, will be 7,154 feet long and have a maximum height of 54 feet. At normal pool elevation the reservoir will cover approximately 12,600 acres and control the runoff from 827 square miles, or about 9.5 percent of the entire Pearl River Basin.

But construction of three multiple-purpose reservoirs during the early-action phase is only part of the study's recommendations for development and utilization of the Pearl River.

Realizing that reservoirs at the headwaters will make other projects economically feasible, four other Mississippi reservoir sites have been included in the study.

These reservoirs will have potential storage for flood control, water quality control, water supply, power, recreation, and fish and wildlife enhancement.

Implementation of these projects will help satisfy the projected needs of the basin and being met by the early action program.

The Mayon Reservoir, in Rankin and Simpson Counties and the D'Lo and Sigold Reservoirs in Simpson County will all be located on the Strong River.

Another reservoir is projected for Bogue Chitto Creek near Summit in Pike County. Pearl River County will be the location of the Picaune Reservoir to control the Hobochino Creek.

The benefits to be derived from construction of the proposed reservoirs are many. With proper utilization of groundwater, surface flows and pollution control measures, sufficient water resources will be available to meet all foreseeable municipal and industrial water supply needs of the Pearl River Basin to the year 2015.

Study indicates that there is a problem of pollution of the Pearl River below Jackson for approximately 40 miles, caused largely by industrial and municipal waste and urban construction. However, corrective measures are now being taken by municipalities and private industry within the basin to improve the condition. With construction of the Edinburg dam, there would be stored water available as a source of water in the Pearl River at and below Jackson which would assist in proper assimilation of adequately treated waste discharges from the city and surrounding industrial and urban areas.

Adoption of proposed treatment or control of waste discharged to the basin's streams plus regulated flows to be supplied by the Edinburg dam will improve the water quality of approximately 80 miles of the Pearl main stream from about 10 miles above Carthage to 40 miles below Jackson.

Additionally, the early-action program would provide approximately 31,000 acres of water surface area to meet some of the present and future recreational needs of the basin.

Recommendations of the program would supply approximately 63 percent of the unsatisfied demand for the four major water activities of boating, camping, picnicking and swimming estimated in the basin for the year 1980.

Tropical Theme Perks Up Party Menu and Decor

One way to insure the success of your next party is to give it an interesting theme that is dramatized in the decor as well as the refreshments. Here are some ideas for adding a tropical touch that will appeal to both youngsters and oldsters:

Create an island paradise with palm leaves, flowers and fruits. Accent the setting with fishnet, seashells, straw mats to sit on and hats for your guests. And drape a lei around each guest's neck.

Refreshments might have a Polynesian flair—glazed oporitis, egg rolls, fresh pineapple and coconut meat. And here's a recipe for an ice cream cran punch that fits in perfectly with the setting and the food:

YOUNG ISLANDERS' PUNCH

1 pint vanilla ice cream, softened
2 bottles (24 oz.) black raspberry soda, chilled
1 bottle Holland House banana daiquiri mix

Combine all ingredients in a punch bowl; stir lightly. Ladle into tall glasses. Makes about 12 servings.

Other exotic and tasty punch recipes, as well as ideas for party themes, are featured in a free punch recipe booklet. To obtain one, just mail a postcard giving your name and address to Punch Recipes, Box 566, Ridgeland, N. J. 07067.

Ideal Snack

For an ideal snack to serve at informal gatherings, add "old fashioned" flavor to old fashioned drop doughnuts. Combine 2 cups of biscuit mix, 2 tablespoons of sugar, 1 egg and 1/4 cup of Holland House old fashioned mix. Mix until smooth, then drop the dough by teaspoonfuls into hot oil (375°F.) and fry until golden brown. Drain and roll in cinnamon sugar.

As an extra treat, create an hor's d'oeuvre tree by studding a styrofoam cone with savory nibbles on colored picks.

Hancock County
Port and Harbor Commission

THE HANCOCK COUNTY PORT and Harbor Commission has altered its official emblem in recognition of its new role of being the Intermodal Hub of the Mississippi-Tombigbee-Tombigbee Waterway complex. The new emblem, seen above, was adopted on Dec. 10, 1970.

Port And Harbor Now Intermodal Hub

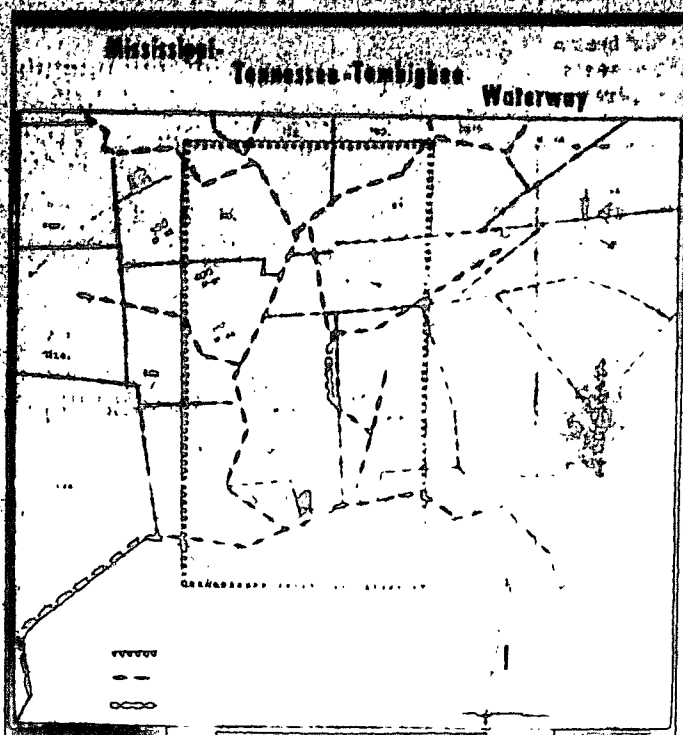

Hancock County, Mississippi, by virtue of its geographical location and diversified industrial development program, has now declared itself the Intermodal Hub of the Tennessee-Tombigbee-Mississippi Waterway complex.

The official announcement was made Dec. 10, 1970 at the year end session of the Hancock County Port and Harbor Commission.

Backing the claim are the commission's new $7 million, 2,200 acre West Hancock County Harbor and Industrial Area and the new $2 million jet-age general aviation facility, Gulf Central Airport-Stennis Field.

The harbor complex is being constructed on county owned lands abutting the Intercoastal Waterway, Pearl River, Rigollettes, and New Orleans Cut Interchange, making it an ideal tow, tug, vessel, LASH, Seabee, shallow draft Caribbean trader, rail, road, pipeline and on-site manufactured switch point for all types of freight, goods and services.

Through the harbor complex, the Interstate Highway 10 and

THE MISSISSIPPI-TENNESSEE-TOMBIGBEE waterway, when in full operation, will both open the entire northern section of Mississippi and offer water users a still-water and down stream passage to the north. Too, the waterway cuts the inland passage distance to the Gulf this in effect, bringing the main industrial centers of America closer to Hancock County. It is expected that some waterway users will move up and down in an anti-clockwise direction from New Orleans, along the Intracoastal canal to Mobile, northward via the Tennessee-Tombigbee lock controlled still water route and return via the south-flowing Mississippi River. Hancock County lies in the center of this route and is gearing to become the principal interchange and interface center for all essential freight, personal, manufactured goods, marine supplies and services. (Map by Hancock County Port and Harbor Commission).

Bay Girl Continues Acting Career

Mrs. Dennis Bullard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George L. Seuzenau, Jr., and winner of the best-actress Louie Award in 1969 at the Bay St. Louis Little Theatre, has continued her interest in the theatre since she left the Bay.

In Belair, Maryland, where her husband was stationed immediately after their marriage, she was selected to play the same role which had won her the Little Theatre Louie, the part of Blanche Dubois in Tennessee Williams' A STREETCAR NAMED DESIRE. Produced on a professional basis, the play enjoyed a six-weeks engagement at the Hickory Inn Dinner Theatre of Belair.

Now in Kaiserslautern, Germany, with her husband and two children, she is helping in the community theater program of the military base of that city. She has taken part in two reading plays presented at the Kaiserslautern Entertainment Center, and she looks forward to other roles in the future.

Interestingly enough, Dennis did not participate in high school or college drama groups. Her only dramatic training was received during her work in the Bay St. Louis Little Theatre, under the direction of Burt Barrett, chairman of production. It was this training plus her talent and newly-awakened interest that have enabled her to continue acting in each of her new homes.

Altered Meaning

The meaning of "Merry Christmas" has changed somewhat over the years. Originally, "merry" meant "blessed, peaceful, pleasant."

As the saying goes, "If we would but light one candle, what a bright world this would be!"

How about it, men and women, the rich, the middle and the poor... of Christmas 1970?

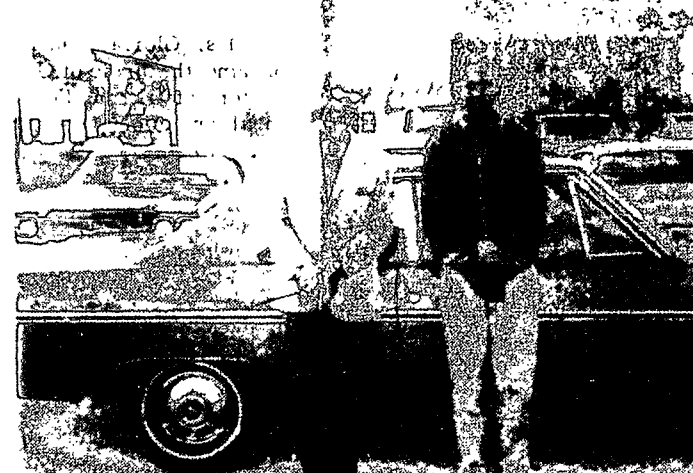

WISHING YOU
THE BEST!

Yule Luncheon Held Thursday

Merriment reigned at Haverty's Restaurant on the afternoon of Thursday, December 17th when the Lakeshore Garden Club held its annual Christmas luncheon. The tables were festively decorated with lovely Christmas arrangements and unique corsages were distributed to members and guests.

Mr. Russell Elliott was guest of honor and joined in the group's activities most graciously.

The luncheon began with an appropriate thought prayer after which seven guests were introduced. A lovely engraved silver bowl was presented to Mrs. Henry Kothmann for receiving the most points throughout the year.

Reach!

Confusion usually reigns on Christmas Day when a large family sits down to the traditional turkey dinner. Once grace has been said, the aunt begins: "Uncle Jack, pass the gravy." "Aunt Mabel, pass the butter" and on, and on, and on.

NO MORE. The old boardinghouse reach is now allowed at the dining table. Instead of asking the person next to you to pass something, it is now acceptable to reach for it yourself.

With one condition--as long as you don't rise from your seat.

Of course, good manners still dictate as to how FAR one may reach. A good rule of thumb is this: If, after reaching for something, you find a part of your meal on your sleeve or tie, forget it. But if all goes well, Christmas dinner can be a very quiet, solemn event.

Just think of it, food lovers! Today, the boardinghouse reach, tomorrow, dunkin' doughnuts.

Good Health & Long Life are Invaluable Christmas Gifts

When the Three Wise Men, led by the star, came from the Orient to worship at the Crib in Bethlehem, they brought with them gifts meant for a King. Along with gold and precious stones, they brought medicinal and aromatic herbs and spices (such as frankincense and myrrh) then numbered among the world's most treasured possessions.

It is clear from Biblical writings that the early Hebrews prized the "vegetable drugs" very highly and they had great respect for the physician and the physician's assistant, the apothecary (pharmacist).

Beginning with the Book of Exodus, the Bible makes mention of these two "health team" members and of the methods they used to heal the sick. Bandages, applications of oil and of oil mixed with wine, salves, poultices, roots and leaves were the tools the Biblical physician used in order to practice his profession.

Fortunately, times have changed since then. Today's physician can count on hundreds of useful drugs to help him in his fight against disease. And, thanks to modern research, under your Christmas Star there's an invaluable gift... health and long life.

KANTCHA KETCHUM
 By L.S. (Doc) Elliott

Christmas time in our way of thinking is the best time of the year. It makes folks merry, joyous and sportsman happy. When most all hunting seasons are open. With a few days off there will be a lot of fishing and hunting going on. There should be fish, game and birds to eat during the holidays.

Fish fries, barbecues, camp outs and trips will be the order of the day.

On the fishing side, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Kramer are regular river trawlers. They catch a lot of speckles, reds, etc. Go on every occasion.

Another husband and wife fishing combination are Mr. and Mrs. Raoul Teillard who go up the river most every day. They both catch their share of fish.

Frank Necaise is doing quite a bit of trolling lately. Frank is a fisherman from way back.

John Christianson is seen lots up Jourdan River where he catches plenty fish.

Mrs. Margie Mitchell and Mitch do their share of fishing when he is not out hunting doves and quail.

Joe Kern and Janelle have been fishing a long time. They both love the sport and get their quota of the finny tribe.

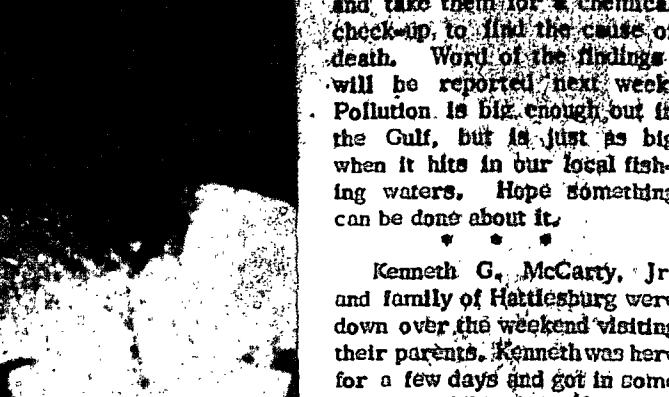

Mayor Warren Carver is kept pretty busy. Loves his fishing but can't go as often as he would like to. Fish will be here a long time, Mayor.

Sorry to hear that John Lightfoot left last week for Milton, Florida. John was connected with the Echo, here. Good luck in your new undertakings, John.

W.C. Frierson and Ruth had a Christmas party last Thursday night at their place of business, The Imperial Lounge, on Highway 90. It was interesting to listen to W.C. tell of his fishing experiences at Peach Lake and Peach Bayou with his father and friends. Very few fishermen know where Peach Lake and Bayou are. They are near Morgan Bayou. These places used to be havens for catching perch and bass, years back. Ask W.C. or Kenneth McCarty how to go to them.

Watson Johns is still catching fish. He does most of his fishing up Pearl River way. They are being caught on under-

SPORTSMAN OF THE WEEK
 Emile Schindler is not only a fisherman but one of our best shrimpers and oysterers. Floundering and soft crabbing are two of his other favorite sports. Been at them a long time, he said.

Believe it or not the Rebel and Repala baits are paying off when using them for trolling for black bass.

Loren Reynolds who works with Horace Farr is a newcomer to this section who likes to fish and hunt.

Loren is retired from the Air Force and has fished many places.

Hoke Ogden says speckles last week were hitting like you know what up Jourdan River. Hoke is one of our best fishermen and claimed he was catching two at a time. Don't doubt it.

Mr. and Mrs. Colly Lovell of Waveland enjoy fishing and hunting. Colly does the hunting, mostly deer, while his wife catches the fish. Mr. Lovell is retired and has plenty time to do both.

Saw an unusual site last Friday at Roy Baxter's Marina at Pearl River on Pearl River. Roy was scooping up dead fish, perch, bass and catfish that were swimming to the surface. Wiggling a couple of times, and turned over dead. Roy, who is interested in his customer's welfare called Mr. Chas. Christolm, who is with the Air and Water Pollution Control Commission, at Jackson, at his own expense to see what he could do to find out what was killing the fish. Mr. Christolm sent Mr. Jones, of Hattiesburg, who is with the commission, to Pearl River to get the dead fish and take them for a chemical check-up to find the cause of death. Word of the findings will be reported next week. Pollution is big enough out in the Gulf, but is just as big when it hits in our local fishing waters. Hope something can be done about it.

Kenneth G. McCarty, Jr. and family of Hattiesburg were down over the weekend visiting their parents. Kenneth was here for a few days and got in some fishing with his dad. He teaches at the University of Southern Mississippi.

Jack Rutledge, like most of us will be busy with home work over the Christmas holidays. His mother will visit with them. After that he said he will be back at fishing.

Will be a pleasure hunting doves starting on Dec. 23rd. Hope there will be more than during the first two segments.

Understand that Harry Roman and Louis Decell are still getting a few quail. Not as plentiful as they used to be, they claim.

Seems like everything is scarce this year. Haven't seen many marsh hens, snipe, coots and ducks while fishing hereabouts. Maybe we haven't had enough cold weather yet.

The wish of Kantcha Ketchum is that you and yours have a Very Merry Xmas.

Benvenuti going to Ole Miss and Oustalet to LSU. The Tigers and Rebels are long-standing athletic rivals and the two young men will no doubt battle each other in future football wars.

Caesar-Necaise Road Progressing

The Caesar-Necaise Road is progressing nicely, according to Don Murray who serves as project representative on that undertaking which is under the responsibility of Board of Supervisor members Dolph Kellar and Joe Cuvana.

Murray said the roadbed will have a 6 inch layer of clay gravel and a 6 inch layer of topping. "It will be a good and durable road", Murray said and added that Yates and Patterson of New Orleans have a contract for bridges and Tanager Construction Company has the road contract.

Hawketts Lead In Cage Play

It was a gloomy week for county cagers, all suffering losses except Hancock North (Central's Hawketts who defeated Long Beach's sextet 47-35 at Long Beach Friday night.

In the nightcap, the Hawks led most of the way but blew the game in the final quarter as the Bearcats zipped in 21 points to HNC's 6. The Hawks had quarter leads of 12-8, 29-23 and 40-38.

All local teams will be idle until after the Christmas holidays. On Jan. 2, the Hawketts entertain Pearl River, La., while Bay High travels to St. Martin High. St. Stanislaus resumes action Jan. 4 at D'Arville and on Jan 5 will host arch-rival Bay High.

Hitting in double figures for the Hawketts Friday were Peggy Haas 18 Linda Deleaux 12 and Leanna Sams 11 points. Lynn Hammons, with 17, was the lone cat girl to hit in double figures. James Ladner and Kenny Seals scored 11 and 10 points respectively for the Hawks while Al Walker and Clay Andrew scored 19 and 17 for Long Beach who made 15 of its final 21 points from the free throw line.

In last Tuesday action, Harrison Central defeated the Hawks 73-61 and the Hawketts 49-43 at HNC; Ocean Springs Greyhounds licked St Stanislaus 82-60 at Ocean Springs and Stone High took a double-header from Bay High, the boys winning 59-45 and the girls 28-13.

Savory Dip

For a savory tomato-flavored dip that's delicious with crackers, potato chips or raw vegetables, combine a 3-oz. package of softened cream cheese, 2 envelopes of Holland House instant bloody mary mix and 1 1/2 pint of sour cream. Add a tablespoon of chopped chives or 1/4 teaspoon of dried basil or dill for seasoning, if desired. This will yield 1 cup of dip.
